Boy Scouts to Host Free Career Day Nov. 12 at UIC

High school students from across Chicagoland will join prominent local professionals for a free Career Day at the University of Illinois at Chicago on Saturday, November 12th.

The event will feature mentor sessions led by notable professionals in the fields of aviation, communications, engineering, fire/EMS, health, law, law enforcement, and the skilled trades. These sessions are designed to give students insight into careers of interest and helpful advice on how to attain the career they seek.

Mentors include professionals from UIC, Collins Engineers, Inc., the FBI, the Federal Aviation Administration, CISCO, local media outlets, The Chicago Bar Association, and more. Students will also learn business skills, interviewing tips, and best practices for writing a resume or college application.

Career Day was organized through Exploring - the career education branch of the Boy Scouts. Exploring is a hands-on program for young men and woman age 14-21 that aims to shape the workforce of tomorrow by engaging and mentoring today's youth in career and life-enhancing opportunities.

Media is invited to attend and interview speakers and student participants. The agenda is attached for your reference. Please contact Kate.Jacobs@Scouting.org if you plan to attend or have any questions.
