 Fine Print:

Events include unit camping on site and activity areas open on Saturday free of charge to units who register in advance (two weeks prior to event) and are $10 per person after the pre-registration deadline. Units are responsible for food, equipment, and proper leadership. All events are fun events only, and activity areas are first come first serve. No activity / merit badge instruction will occur unless specifically noted online in the course description. Scouts may be able to complete practical requirements in activity areas, but is not guaranteed.
