

BACKYARD JUNGLE Objective Scout will Achieve:	In this adventure, Tigers will learn that there are many types of living things that share the place where we live. All animals, plants, and insects have a purpose in our environment. It is everyone’s duty to be mindful of other creatures’ habitats. Regardless of their age, Tigers can make a difference.
Characteristics Scouts will Learn:	Learning about the creatures and plants that share our living world, Knowing it’s never too early to understand our animal and insect neighbors, Learning how to protect the environment, Practicing service to the community and the world, A Scout is thrifty, kind, clean.
Materials for Virtual Meeting:	Rinsed out Milk or Juice Carton Birdhouse Scissors A piece of yarn or ribbon Bird seed (if you choose)
Activities during meeting:	Make a birdhouse, go on a hike
Instruction for Activity 1	Have each Tiger and their adult partner cut the sides out of a rinsed-out, cardboard milk or juice container while leaving the corners in place. If time permits, paint and decorate the carton. Punch a hole in the top large enough for a piece of yarn or ribbon to pass through, and form a loop large enough to go around a tree branch. Poke small holes in the bottom. Fill the bottom of the carton with bird seed, if you choose.
Instruction for Activity 2
Instruction for Activity 3
Instruction for Activity 4
Additional Requirements needed to complete the Adventure (These requirements will not be on the Virtual Cub Scout Video):	