

Publicity Channels for Scout News

Scouts and Scout units do remarkable things that would be of interest to your community. Informing our community about these events and accomplishments promotes Scouting and can enhance the unit for existing and prospective members. Here are some channels that can be used to communicate Scout and unit activities and accomplishments of community interest.

Information could be carried in the Signal Hill Newsletter by emailing to ScoutNews.SignalHill@gmail.com .

You can submit a press release / notice of the accomplishment along with photos to the Daily Herald at <https://www.dailyherald.com/share/>

The Patch provides a means to publicize accomplishments to many suburban communities including Palatine <https://patch.com/illinois/palatine/around-town>

The Journal Times also provides a place to announce the accomplishment in the NW suburbs <https://www.journal-topics.com/forms/submit-your-news/>

The Barrington Lifestyle Magazine carries featured stories with submissions at <http://lifestylesmagazine.com/web/contact-us/>

Remarkable Scouting accomplishments may also be of interest to Bryan for the National BSA blog <https://blog.scoutingmagazine.org/>
